Progress Report

Barden tells city cable TV is coming

By JERRY DESHARNAIS
Special ANP Writer

Don Barden, president of Barden Cable TV Company, met with the Romulus City Council last week and reassured the council and the administration that progress is being made in establishing cable TV in the community.

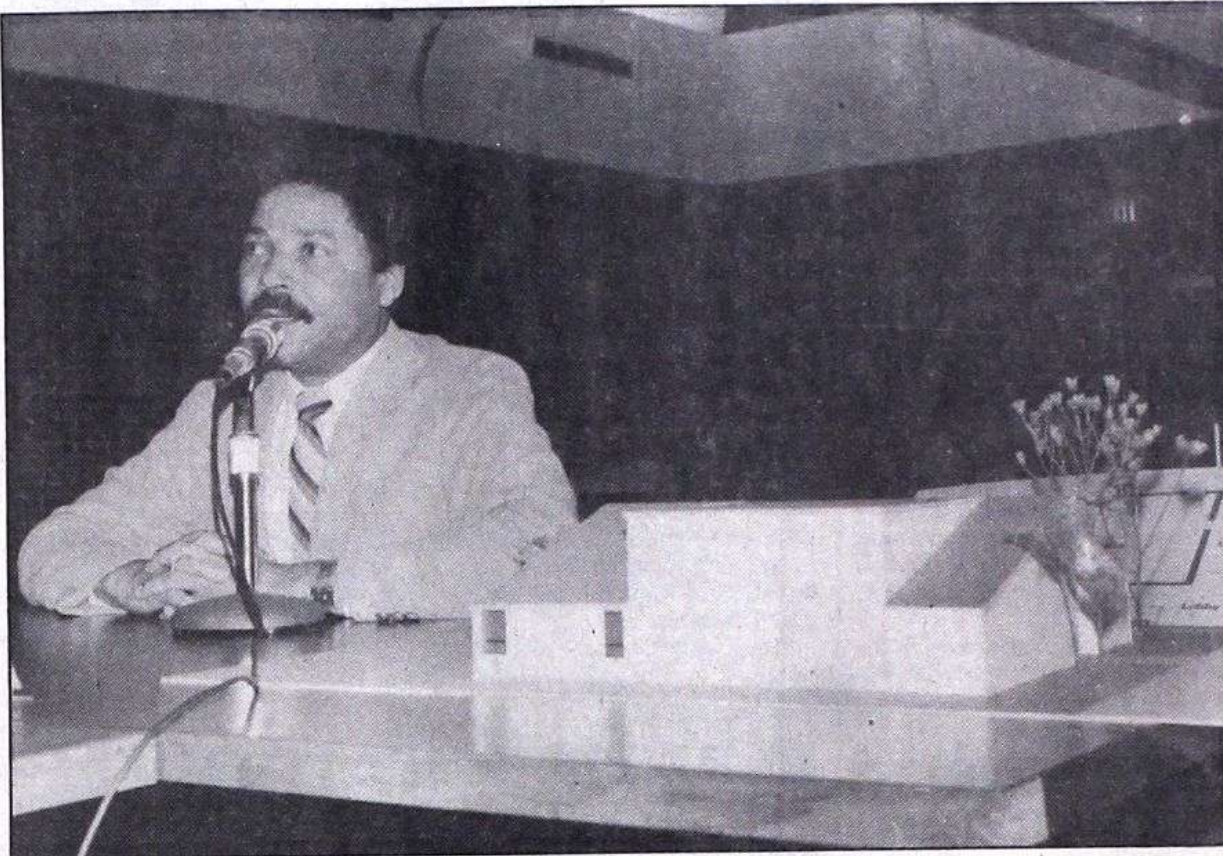

It was a flawless presentation by Barden who spoke to the group for one-half hour, showed a model of the new studio, and presented a time-table of the cable TV developments.

Five assistants, including Barden's architect Al Paas, were on hand during the presentation.

"I recognize that there is not a lot of visibility, although we have been in the community working," Barden told the Council, "and I'm sure there is concern by your constituents relative to when they are going to get their service."

"This of course is a normal reaction in every community because people want cable TV very much. And we like to provide them with the service."

Barden then described some of the technical progress that has been made.

Don Barden, President of Barden Cablevision, shows off proposed model of building that will house his Romulus cable TV operations.

The architectural model of the studio has been completed he told the council, and revealed the model to the gathering.

Barden noted that the building of such a structure is not normally part of an agreement between a Cable TV company and a community. He also noted that nonetheless his company was glad to make that part of the agreement and to make that contribution to the city of Romulus.

Further, all of the base maps, field surveys, and strand maps are 100 per cent complete, he said, preparations which are absolutely necessary before cable is strung and homes are connected.

Make ready maps are 80 per cent complete and design maps about half complete, he said.

"We expect all of this to be 100 per cent complete by Oct. 7," he said. "Which means that after all of that happens within 2 to 5 days after that, you will begin to see some physical construction."

"After that," he continued, "it seems relatively fast as far as service is concerned," Barden added.

Barden commented that had it not been for the necessity of building a building, "we could probably be somewhat ahead of where we are now. But I think the benefits that will be derived from constructing this building far outweigh the two or three months that we have sacrificed to bring the brand new facility to the city."

"We will start construction on this building... during the month of October," he announced to the Council.

"I have learned not to get too specific on starting times... because there are a lot of items beyond... control," he advised the Council.

"At the same time... a couple of weeks ago by the quicksand involved in securing the franchise in that city to the east of us, namely Detroit."

"We were successful there. It (See BARDEN Page 3)

Feds reject grant request

By JERRY DESHARNAIS
Special ANP Writer

An application by Huron Township for a federal grant of $390,000 was rejected by the Economic Development Administration Sept. 26.

Carlos C. Campbell, Assistant Secretary for Economic Development, sent a letter to Huron Township explaining the rejection and his regrets.

Campbell said that more than 2,800 applications for funding under the Jobs Act had been made, totaling $1.6 billion.

The amount available for funding was $100 million.

'Simply not possible to satisfy all of the requests.'

"It simply was not possible to satisfy all of the requests..." Campbell wrote.

The application of $390,000 by Huron Township was intended for money to buy existing buildings in New Boston one of which was to be remodeled for a Township Hall and a DPW garage headquarters, and to provide area for off-street parking.

"Disappointed" was Supervisor A.J. Haener's reaction to the decision.

A second application to the EDA for $290,000, however, has not been acted on, as of last week. The deadline was Friday, Sept. 30.

The $290,000 request was for the replacement of 40-year-old waterlines in New Boston.

Barden turns on Van Buren

600 subscribers are on the line

The great cable turn-on continues according to plan in Van Buren Township, with construction of several new systems scheduled to begin later in the month.

With 600 cable subscribers to date, Barden Cablevision Programming Manager Tim Cusick said that he predicts a "better than 50 per cent response, or some 3500 to 4000 homes when we're finished next spring."

"Response has been very positive," he said.

The initial cable kick-off in Van Buren Township began three weeks ago when about 400 customers from Van Buren Estates (a subdivision on L-94 and Haggerty) were officially "turned on."

Following a step-by-step game plan, Barden is now concentrating on hooking up other parts of the area north of I-94 and east of Belleville Road.

By the end of October, Barden expects to begin cable construction for two other "phases." These include areas west of Belleville Rd. and north of I-94, and south of I-94 and east of Sumpter Road.

The final phase of construction is scheduled to begin in late January or early February. This includes the area bordering Ypsilanti Township (south of I-94, west of Sumpter Road).

Van Buren and Barden first shook hands on an agreement a year ago. The township will receive five per cent of gross annual receipts from Barden.

Meanwhile Van Buren Township officials enjoyed the red carpet treatment — literally — at a gala "system dedication" celebration last Saturday at local Barden headquarters, 43430 N. Service Drive).

Township Supervisor George Craven, Treasurer Donna Hall, Township Clerk Delphine Dudick, and Trustees Marilyn Montgomery and Thurston Jahr were among those honored at the festivities.

"We appreciate your giving us the opportunity to prove ourselves," Don Barden, president of Barden Cablevision, told the Van Buren delegation.

"We're extremely happy Van Buren has cable," Craven replied. He added, "Some of my firemen are looking forward to putting the Playboy channel in the fire station over the evening."

The gathering marked not only the official kick-off of cable in Van Buren but Barden's recent, dazzling coup in capturing the Detroit cable franchise, (approximately 470,000 homes).

Barden was awarded the Detroit franchise in August. In addition to a franchise in Inkster, the company (based in Lorain, Ohio) is setting up franchises in Romulus and Toledo.

Guests at the Saturday night celebration crossed a bright red carpet to enter the sprawling Barden building (which includes facilities for future videotaping). In addition to speeches, dining, and dancing, guests enjoyed some of the 40-odd stations offered by Barden on television sets spread across the room.

Dr. Bedell explains why

Schools seek millage again

By JERRY DESHARNAIS
Special ANP Writer

"We are going up to bat again because there is no choice."

Romulus School Supt. William Bedell speaks of the school millage which will be up before the public Nov. 8.

Romulus schools are asking for 1½ and 6 mills for maintenance and operating expenses respectively.

That's a lot of millage. And this is the fourth time the school superintendent and the school board are attempting to get the Romulus taxpayers to approve.

A superintendent from a neighboring school district remarked that it must be "tough" on Dr. Bedell, taking one rejected millage after another.

A very bright and competent veteran Romulus school teacher asked for a visit with Supt. Bedell recently and expressed his "disappointment" in the Superintendent.

The Superintendent is cut. He admires the teacher.

"The reason we don't have a choice," said Dr. Bedell, in his third year as Romulus school administrator, "is that under the current financial circumstances in this state, there is no way for us to provide our children with a 'reasonable' education without millage.

"We have taken programs away from kids, we have cut employees' pay, and we have gone through a great deal of trouble to sue the state."

"We are out of alternatives."

The suit that Bedell refers to started a year and a half ago. It was initiated by Romulus School District and was joined by 21 other school districts throughout the state.

It challenges the constitutionality of the current state aid system.

For launching this suit, Bedell has paid. School administrators in "rich" school districts don't like the suit.

What the suit intends to correct is the inequity in funding from one district to another.

Example: Identical homes with identical families in Romulus and Dearborn. The family in Romulus pays $11 more per thousand in property value. And the Dearborn child has $1400 more spent on his education each year.

"The Dearborn child lives in a community with such a rich tax base," Bedell explains, "that the child not only

Residents jam state health meeting

By JERRY DESHARNAIS
Special ANP Writer

Some 300 Huron residents attended a hearing last week conducted by the State Public Health Committee.

The hearing concerned the proposed legislation to put a 1-year moratorium on landfills.

The Health Committee was chaired by State Rep. Curtis Hertel (D) and was attended by Rep. Matt J. Dunaskiss (R) who is the sponsor of the proposed bill — House Concurrent Rule 452.

The Committee was invited by Milton Mack, Wayne County Commissioner, to hear residents' complaints about landfills in Huron Township and the state, and the inadequacies in the present state Public Acts 64 and 641 regarding toxic waste and solid waste landfills respectively.

Hertel made an opening statement to the gathering and indicated he was impressed with the size of the Huron crowd, assembled at Huron High.

Also on the dias were Rep. Richard Sullivan (D-21st Dist); Rep. Edward Mahalak (D-37th Dist.)

Huron's newly appointed environmental lawyer, Thomas Plunkett, spoke on behalf of Huron and highlighted some of

Bubble, bubble, toil and trouble

Wayne County Commissioner Milton Mack, while inspecting a dump near Flat Rock, watches as chemicals bubble up through fissures around the dump's perimeter. The dump, located on Arsenal Road about ¾ mile north of the Huron River fishing site, was closed 11 years ago. Lee Bobcean, a local resident, said animals and children often play in the area and that some have complained of rashes. Nearby trees are dying and deep erosion is uncovering debris buried in the dome-shaped area.

the changes that should be made in the law regarding landfills.

Presentations were also made by Mack, and Huron Township Clerk Mary Lou Carey on behalf of the township.

Mayor Ted Anders of Flat

Rock, Mayor Curt Boller of Brownstown, and residents from their communities were on hand in the audience, as well as residents from Monroe County and Ash Township.

Statements to the chair were also made by the Huron Valley Citizens Association (HVCA).

Sullivan and Mahalak, both co-sponsors of HCR 452, also made statements and answered questions about the proposed moratorium on landfills in Michigan.

Attorney's role is clarified in report

The following is the report by Huron Township Supervisor A.J. Haener after a meeting between the new consulting attorney on environmental matters, Thomas Plunkett, and members of the Huron Township administration: Haener; Mary Lou Carey, Clerk; and Chris Gamber, Treasurer.

We reprint the report to provide clarification of the role of Plunkett in Huron Township landfill matters.

Administrative Officers meeting with Thomas G. Plunkett. Present: Carey, Gamber, and Haener.

Meeting started at 3 p.m. and adjourned after 5 p.m.

We covered a wide area of subjects. We started by explaining that Mr. Plunkett would be in complete charge of protecting the interests of Huron Township, and its citizens in all matters concerning landfills.

We made it very clear that he is to pursue both the Sibley Road and Will Carleton Road sites with equal vigor.

The matter of consultants. Mr. Plunkett will make the determination of what is required, make his recommendations and the Board will hire these people. To eliminate the need for special meetings, or waiting for regular board meetings, the Board should give the Administrative Officers blanket approval to take care of these matters promptly.

Haener will be spokesperson with Mr. Plunkett, for the Board and the Administrative Committee.

Haener will meet with the Huron Valley Citizens Association to select two contact persons, one representing the Sibley Road site, another the Will Carleton site. He will be the contact person in this area also.

Since the advisory group was set up primarily to monitor monies derived from the two mill, two year assessment approved on September 20, 1983, Mrs. Gamber will keep this group informed.

Since we recognize some correspondence will be privileged, Mr. Plunkett and I will determine which papers will be copied and forwarded to the group by mail.

Those of you who sat in on the screening committee to select an attorney will recall that most always someone representing the H.V.C.A. would ask if the candidate would meet with the group free of charge to allow them to pass on information they feel may be helpful to the attorney. I am sure their intentions were good, but the answers from most candidates ranged from an emphatic no to evasive. To take care of the H.V.C.A. requests, Mr. Plunkett will meet with them at our expense on Wednesday, September 28, 1983 at 7:30 p.m., at the Waltz Community Center.

Prior to the above meeting, Mr. Plunkett and I will tour the Sibley Road, Will Carleton, and S. Huron Road sites, to acquaint him with the general area. The tour will also include Waltz and the location of the Community Center for his scheduled meeting tonight, and the Huron High School for the Public Hearing on H.C.R. 452.

Mr. Plunkett was interested in the M.T.A. position on landfills. Mrs. Carey will fill in on this.

I'm sure we have missed a topic or two, the Board is free to ask any questions.

Tyler Road to get facelift

Old Tyler Road will receive a facelift, thanks to some help from both the private and public sector.

Van Buren Township officials learned recently that the township received $45,000 in Community Development Block granting to pave the road.

The township was one of 31 communities competing for the discretionary funds from Wayne County.

Township Treasurer Doonna Hall wrote the grant application.

In addition, R.A. DiMattia, developer of the new I-275 Haggerty Industrial Park, contributed $15,000 to the grant funds, bringing the total amount available for the paving to $60,000.

A main reason for paving the road was to provide a better access to the industrial park, Hall said. The paving would probably not begin until spring," she said.

Man, 19 arrested at Metro

By JERRY DESHARNAIS
Special ANP Writer

A 19-year-old Romulus resident was arrested by Airport Police Monday evening for trespassing and unlawfully boarding a Republic airplane.

Approximately 11:25 p.m., the youth, whose identification is being withheld pending issuance of a warrant, gained entry through a locked alarmed door which gives access to the airport operating area, said Airport Supervisor Bill Pardon.

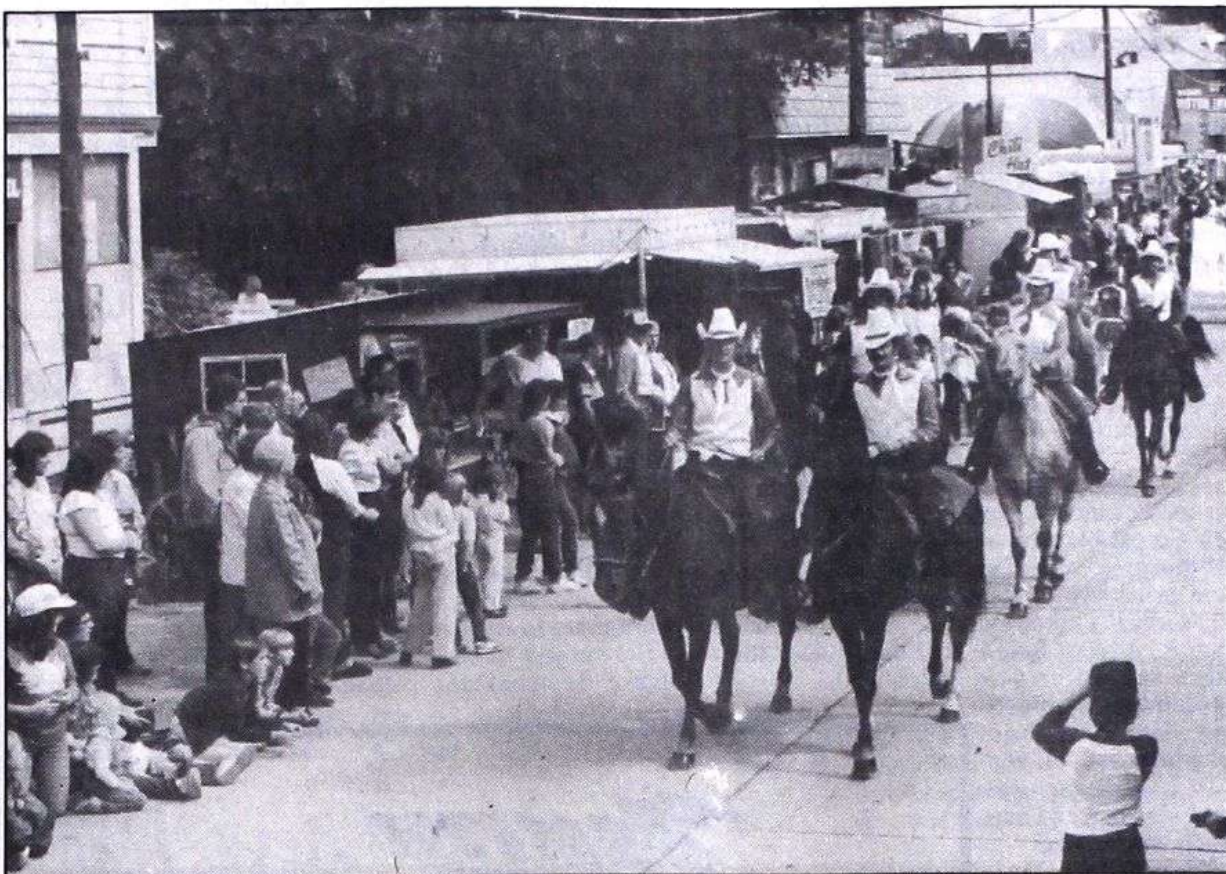

He then boarded an empty Republic plane. Airport officer James Arnold, who had been alerted by the alarm, searched the ramp area and then the Republic plane which was parked for cleaning.

Arnold found the youth standing in the galley area of the plane drinking from a small bottle of wine. The youth did not resist arrest. He was brought to the airport police office and released on his own personal recognizance to return the next day.

He was escorted off the airport premises, but he returned to the airport parking structure and at shift change he boarded a shuttle bus left running for the next shift and he drove it out the exit gate.

The youth was picked up in Ypsilanti after he failed to pay for gasoline at a station, and for driving a stolen vehicle.

The suspect is being held in the Washtenaw County Jail.

Applefest is a huge success

The 4th annual Applefest. Huron Township's yearly celebration, once again enjoyed good crowds and generally good weather.

"I would place it at tops in the sense that we were better organized than ever because of past experience," said Pete Glaab, Applefest chairman.

"You just learn as you go," he added. "You can anticipate more accurately things that have to be done to avoid potential problems."

Glaab said the crowd was as good if not better than last year and that it indicated "we have a satisfied following because we did less advertising this year."

"This year was the finest and most impressive parade that we've had," he added.

The festival had the luck of the weather on its side again even though Saturday morning's drizzle had the Applefest Committee considerably worried, he said.

However, it did not rain and was overcast Saturday and on Sunday the sky was sunny and the air warm.

This year's Applefest Johnny Appleseed was Jamie Hinojosa, the Huron Chief football coach.

The Applefest Queen was Carol Hoagland, an office employee at Township Hall.

Winner of the 10K run this year was Paul Deladurantaye, of Southgate with a time of 34:49.

In the women's division, Judy Buresh of Garden City won with a time of 42:55.

This year's Applefest parade has been described as the best ever. Among the entrants was the award-winning 1st Michigan Colonial Fife and Drum Corps of Sterling Heights (center) who play 18th Century fife and drums. At top, a contingent of men on horseback are shown riding through New Boston. At bottom, is a view of one shoulder-to-shoulder crowd on Sunday.

Huron High School hit by bomb threat

By JERRY DESHARNAIS
Special ANP Writer

A telephone bomb threat to Huron High School evacuated some 640 students and 28 teachers last Thursday.

The telephone threat was made at 12:50 a.m. to the high school principal's office.

Rita Vitale, 17, a senior who works in the office as a student aide, answered the phone.

"There's a bomb in locker 1171," a gruff voice said. The caller hung up and called again. Vitale again answered.

"Get the bomb?" he said, and hung up.

Miss Vitale advised Mrs. Shirley Clark, secretary to Principal

Jon Stevens. She in turn told Assistant Principal Ray Vollman.

The phone rang a third time and Vollman answered but the caller hung up without speaking.

A fourth call was made, and Carolyn Prater, secretary to Superintendent Gary Jackson answered the phone and the caller said:

"Rose are red,
Violets are blue,
Get the bomb,
It's up to you."

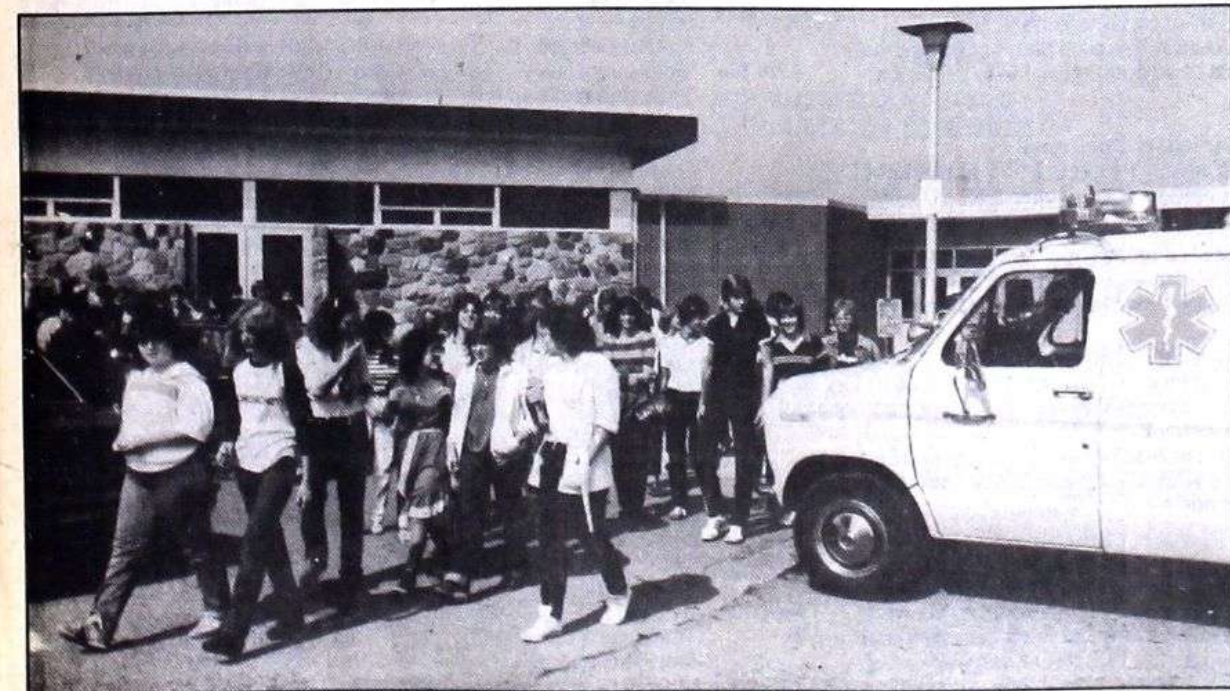

Vollman noticed a Huron Township police car driven by Kreg Booker in the school parking lot. Booker was making a routine check of handicapped parking spaces for possible violators.

Booker alerted Huron police and fire departments and Sgt. John Maier and Police Chief Frank Marvaso responded.

Three pieces of fire equipment and seven personnel were at the scene within minutes as the school was evacuated.

The locker was checked and a check was made of rooms in the school building.

Students at Huron High are normally dismissed at 1:10 p.m. In this instance, the student body had to remain "after school", until 1:30 p.m., about 20 minutes beyond the regular dismissal.

Unscheduled recess

Students of Huron High School are shown as they are evacuated from the school following a bomb threat last week. At right is a Township fire department vehicle.

Barden presents progress report to city council

We did test our energy and our resources although we were victorious and successful. And I think that the City of Romulus will benefit from our victory there," he said.

Barden explained that if the system would interconnect "our communities, Van Buren, Inks, and Romulus, to that system and utilize many things such as, the computer, the satellite, so there are many tremendous side benefits."

Barden said that these developments will assure that Romulus' cable TV system will be "second to none in this country."

Barden added that the completion of the building should be within 90 days after construction begins.

Concurrently, Barden Cable will be "constructing the cable wires", he said, "attaching wires to poles and clearing for connecting homes, which we did in Van Buren by the way. We have several hundred homes and a couple of subdivisions (wired) before the electronic head was even in," he said.

"We are dedicating that system on Saturday (Oct. 1)," he said.

"We will deliver the same kind of construction here," Barden advised. "When this building is complete and the electronic gear is in, it's just a matter of turning the switch and the people are ready to receive service."

The factors of weather and the utilities will have some effect on the progress of the construction, he said.

"We expect the system to be providing service in December or January," he advised, "to some of the residents. How many, I couldn't tell you at this juncture."

That's pretty much where things are," he concluded, and then answered questions from the Council.

Mills would provide reasonable education

gets more money (from taxes from the Rouge plant) but his parents pay a smaller tax.

"That's not fair," Bedell continues, "and it's unconstitutional."

Romulus' lawsuit, if it were to win, would provide equal money for each child in the state. Twenty-one other school districts have joined Romulus in the suit.

When Bedell gave a speech before the Oakland County School Board Association 1½ years ago regarding the lawsuit, the hostility of the "Rich" district was apparent.

A number of the board members after the speech accused Bedell of trying to "steal" their tax base. And some insinuated there was a "need" for some districts to be rich and others to be poor, Bedell said.

One board member from a "new rich" school district in Oakland County accused Bedell of "trying to sink us all."

Bedell said that he replied: "No, we want to know who decided who got to be in the lifeboat and who would be in the water. And more importantly, who designed the ship that wouldn't have enough lifeboats in the first place."

The lawsuit will take years. Meanwhile, Bedell is at the helm of Romulus Schools.

What has he done?

In November, 1982, Bedell, in the face of an impasse at the negotiating table with the Romulus teachers' union, the Romulus Education Association, recommended to the board to reduce the teachers salary schedule by 22 percent.

Bedell said that by Feb. 1,

1983 the school district would have to close for lack of cash. It would be $2 million in debt by Feb. 1 and unable to borrow $3 million for cash flow purposes.

The board gave Bedell unanimous approval.

The salaries were cut. This obviously was not popular among the teachers, a staff of 280 which has been reduced by 110 in recent years.

Teachers lost individually between $4,000 and $6,000 annually. That kind of money would help pay the mortgage.

The teachers' union attempted an injunction (court-ordered delay) and was not successful.

It is being appealed by the union and waits a decision by a Federal Appeals Court in Cincinnati.

Also, an unfair labor practice charge against the School Board, an appeal to the Tenure Commission, and a pending state lawsuit are in the works.

So that is why Bedell and the school board are going before the taxpayers for millage for the 4th time, even though the rejection may be "tough".

Money would help soothe the matter.

"I would restore $500,000 to $700,000 in programs for the kids," Bedell said.

"I would settle all our employee contracts as reasonably as possible.

"And I would make a number of critically needed maintenance repairs.

"I think we can get the millage because taxes in Romulus have been reduced substantially," Bedell conjectures.

Sumpter grants farmer permit to build controversial pond

After several months of debate — and a previous vote of rejection — the Sumpter Township Board of Trustees agreed recently to allow an area farmer to proceed with plans to build a three-acre irrigation pond on his property.

By a 4-1 vote, the trustees granted Kenneth Summers two "special exception" permits that he needs to construct the pond at his Judd Road farm.

In July, the board turned down a larger scale pond plan by a 3-2 margin.

"I'm satisfied, but I'm sorry it's taken as long as it did," Summers said after the September 27 meeting. Summers had told the board, "If you wait any longer, it'll be spring before I can start on my pond."

Trustee John Morgan and Township Clerk Louis Banatol, who voted against the plan in July, said they changed their minds because Summers reduced his pond size from five to three acres.

Trustee Floyd Bevins and Treasurer Clarence Hoffman cast the other two "yes" votes. Trustee Michael Huziak again voted "no" while Township Supervisor Jim Reeves refused to cast his ballot.

"I still have reservations about the sand removal," Reeves said, when Banatol urged him to vote. "I'm not going to vote." Trustee Virgil Humphreys was absent.

Along with size, sand removal has been a main cause in the verbal tug-of-war between the farmer and the trustees. Board members and many township residents have expressed concern because Summer's original application requested the removal of 180,000 yards of sand.

Sumpter Township has had a sand removal ordinance on the books for two years, since the start of a lawsuit with City Sand and Landfill over the operation of its landfill at Willow and Elwell.

Since then, the mention of the words "sand removal" is enough to send hisses through the audience at the (usually well-attended) board meetings.

"My three acre pond has nothing to do with City Sand's 40 acres of whatever," Summers told the board. Later in the meeting, board members listened to discussion of a proposed settlement of the lawsuit by City Sand officials.

Township trustees also voted to allow Summers a special exception to a permit against constructing ponds in the township.

The board's vote of approval comes in the wake of a re-endorsement of Summers' plans by the township planning commission. The commission, which approved Summers' original application in May, endorsed his revised version at a meeting early in September.

"We feel that this (Summers' plans) is in accordance with township zoning ordinances," Peter Kirchner, chairman of the planning commission, said at the meeting.

Township Attorney Eugene Turnbull also submitted a written opinion to the board stating that Summers' plans complied (See POND Page A-5)

To stop proposed hazardous waste shipment

VB explores legal action

Legal action to halt a proposed shipment of hazardous substances from the Berlin & Farro toxic waste site near Flint to Wayne Disposal is being explored by the Van Buren Township Board of Trustees.

At the September 27 board meeting, the trustees authorized Township Attorney Richard James to check into the possibility of an injunction that would bar the landfill, at 49350 I-94 Service Drive, from accepting the shipments.

The board's concern rose over the fact that the landfill was listed in a U.S. Environmental Protection Agency study as a possible recipient of 37,000 yards of very low level PCB laced sludges and solids. But the Department of Natural Resources representative said the Van Buren landfill was only one of four possible sites.

"Nothing's definite at this point," said Jim Truchan, the court appointed administrator of the Berlin & Farro clean-up project.

Truchan emphasized there was "very little difference" between the proposed shipment

"It's no different than the stuff that arrives every week at Wayne Disposal," Truchan added.

The high level PCB substances from Berlin & Farro are being shipped to a site near Cincinnati, Truchan added.

Residents have very real fears about any toxic waste coming in there.

Township Supervisor George Craven

and a previous shipment, in July, of very lightly contaminated soil from the site.

"This (the proposed shipment) contains soils and solids from barrels dug out of the Berlin & Farro landfill. It has only 50 parts per million PCB's (cancer causing compounds)," he said.

George Craven, Van Buren Township Supervisor, said the township would "move carefully" in the event of another shipment.

"I want to look into it, see if we have a good chance of getting an injunction or not. I don't want to spend taxpayers' money if we're fighting windmills."

"Residents have very real fears about any toxic waste coming in there," he said.

In mid-July, almost 6,000 yards of sand from Berlin & Farro was dumped at Wayne Disposal. Upset that they had only been given a few days' notice of the delivery, Van Buren Township officials held a press conference to protest the action.

Township officials and residents are also up in arms over a licensing amendment, proposed by Michigan Disposal (adjacent to Wayne Disposal) that would allow the landfill to accept toxic wastes ignitable at 90 degrees Fahrenheit rather than 140 degrees.

Van Buren officials are waiting to hear whether the DNR has approved the amendment or not. At an August 1 public meeting, more than 100 area residents turned out in protest.

In other action at the board meeting, the trustees:

Tabled the WMECN (police dispatch) budget until Craven holds further meetings with Sumpter and Belleville officials, and makes a report to the board. Sumpter and Belleville have already approved the new Western Metropolitan Emergency Communications Network budget.

Appointed Edward D'Angelo to the Zoning Board of Appeals, with Clerk Delphine Dudick and Trustee Darwin Kureth voting against the appointment.

Authorized requesting bids for trash collection in the township.

Appointed Trustee Marilyn Montgomery to the area library board and Police Chief Leonard Keller as the township emergency preparedness director.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT

By John Brimble

There's a British recipe that calls for braising a browned chicken in a cup of whiskey.

Good news for those on low-sodium diets. More and more manufacturers are canning foods without added salt. Watch for Del-Monte.

Your food processor is the answer for smooth, beautiful vegetable cream soup. Sauté a chopped onion in olive oil until softened, then add sliced zucchini, minced garlic and a little broth, and simmer until soft. Add cream and process until smooth. Chill.

Success tip for roll cake: turn out onto sugared towel and roll up, towel and all, while warm. Unroll after a minute to let steam escape, then roll again until cool. When cold cake is unrolled and filled, use towel as a helper to roll it up again.

Plunkett discusses strategy with citizens' group

By JERRY DESHARNAIS
Special ANP Writer

Thomas Plunkett, newly-hired as consulting attorney on environmental matters in Huron Township, talked strategy last Wednesday with the Board of the Huron Valley Citizen's Association.

Plunkett advised the group he is prepared to proceed against any landfill in Huron Township with whatever material he is provided.

The Board advised Plunkett that is on record against any landfills.

The gathering of information was now the main priority, Plunkett said. He told the group that he would prepare for the worse just so there would be no letdown during the proceedings.

Plunkett agreed with the HVCA that the recent developments of the Sibley Road Site by BFI (the site was not listed on the County Plan, the hold up because of the Niagara Falls bird study) were positive for their interests.

The question and answer session lasted some 2½ hours. It was held at the Waltz Community Center, last Wednesday.

On hand for the meeting were Fred Abar, president; Janet Kidd, vice president; Vicki Lyons, secretary; Lee Stewart, treasurer; and trustees Philip Kasperek and Nora Adkins.

Farmer to construct his pond

with zoning and excavation ordinances.

Reeves acknowledged that it was "unusual" for the board to reconsider a previous vote. The action came following heated arguments by Summers and supporters at previous meetings, as well as a petition drive which netted the farmer several hundred signatures in support of his proposal.

Summers, who emphasized that he spent $5,600 to draw up his plans, says that he needs the pond both to raise crops and water 40 head of cattle at his 63-acre farm.

In other actions at the meeting:

The board agreed to discuss, at a special meeting, whether to take action against Ronnie Manley, a member of the Zoning Board of Appeals. Township Clerk Louis Banatol made the suggestion after learning from the Sumpter Police Department that Manley had moved a trailer home to 22250 Prince Road without obtaining necessary permits.

Banatol also said that the township needed to "crack down" on illegal ponds in the township, and recommended a meeting with his department and the engineer to look at an aerial map of the area.

The board tabled, for further study, a request by Woodrow Sloan to expand his self service gasoline station and convenience store at the southeast corner of Bemis and Sumpter.

Reeves said the board needed to investigate complaints by area residents over possible drainage problems as a result of the expansion.

At Reeves' suggestion, the board and the audience joined in a moment of silence to honor Max Harness II, a retired township firefighter.

Gas foul-up
Mix-up cause for concern

There is a saying that what we don't know won't hurt us. That obviously isn't true. And, hopefully, the Marathon Oil Company will correct a precarious situation at a Canton Township "I-Don't-Know" gas station.

As related in a statement signed by James E. Poole, Canton Township Supervisor, on Thursday, September 15 of this year, that township's fire department responded to a Marathon Oil station on Lilley Road when it was discovered by officials that gasoline was flowing through the storm sewers and ending up in the drain.

When the officials tested the sewers with an explosive meter to determine whether the situation was dangerous, they discovered that the air in the sewers were "in the explosive range".

However, it took a lot of unnecessary time and strong language before the officials could correct the situation. According to the township officials, the personnel on duty at the gas station, "didn't know how to shut down the pumps", while a second employee "refused to remove the covers on the inceptor wells" because "he wasn't authorized to do so."

The fire department personnel proceeded to remove the covers and went about trying to find the source of the gasoline flow. The department was later informed that the gasoline spill had occurred sometime in July. There was no notification to anyone about this spill.

Township officials say that if notification of the spill had been made, the hazard could have been remedied much sooner and would not have exposed Canton residents to a possible life safety situation. Fortunately no one was injured.

But it could have ended in a tragedy if the township had not discovered the situation and corrected it. We believe that Marathon should immediately take corrective measures to make sure that during any similar crises their personnel and employees cooperate not only in Canton Township but also elsewhere.

Fire and police officials have a lot more work on their hands than explaining to gas station attendants that they need to cooperate. Common sense — and it appears in this case the gas station employees didn't have any — should dictate that in a crisis situation, police and fire officials need all the cooperation they can get.

Meet the Candidates
Don't miss opportunity

In the next four weeks, civic organizations, newspapers, including The Associated Newspapers, politically-motivated clubs and many others will be hosting a series of "Meet the Candidates" night to help voters get acquainted with those seeking elective office.

These formal and informal gatherings allow office-seekers and citizens a forum to exchange views on a wide range of subjects and the exchange could be very informative.

However, some develop into heated controversy with those in attendance leaving the premises with a "Why did I bother to come?" feeling.

We hope that the dialogue is constructive and the criticism helpful. For, the price we all pay for electing candidates to office who are ill-prepared for office can hurt us profoundly and economically.

Certainly it pays to know who you will cast your vote for. And now is the best time to decide who you want to serve you.

The November 8 General Election is only a month away. Do you know who is running for what office?

Annapolis staff is applauded

EDITOR - I was hospitalized recently in Annapolis on the third floor. I want to thank all the nursing staff on all shifts for the wonderful care I received.

I am still having Physical Therapy follow-up and the caring and compassion is the same for all patients. Last, but not least, the ladies in outpatient are great.

Most of all I want to thank my physician-surgeon, Dr. Roy W. Matthews Jr. He always takes time to listen to his patients.

He is a dedicated doctor and certainly a "humanitarian".

Billboard had a message for board of education

I would like to respond to Ms. Grimes' letter about the Romulus Education Association's billboard.

The purpose of displaying a billboard with a large apple with a screw through it was to show Romulus teacher dissatisfaction with the Romulus Community School's Board of Education over last November's unilateral twenty-two percent pay cut.

Our complaint is not with the community of Romulus but rather with the elected representatives on the Romulus Board of Education who felt it necessary to roll back salaries unilaterally.

Times are especially hard for Romulus teachers. Believe it or not, teachers are also workers, parents, and also taxpayers. Romulus teachers also get taxed at the same rate as the "taxed to death" working parents of Romulus plus more. Every time I get my pay check I am reminded that I pay an extra 22 percent tax to work here. You should see what a 22 percent pay cut gives you to take home after taxes.

The fact that Ms. Grimes' father lost his job after 22 years has nothing at all to do with a 22 percent pay cut imposed on the Romulus teachers by the Romulus Board of Education, although losing one's job after that much time is regrettable.

Ms. Grimes wants teachers to use their "inner resources" and not "expensive" texts, dittos, films, etc. Most teachers lost 22 percent of their "inner resources" last November. What does she suggest teachers use in place of such "expensive" frills like text books? I think she would find it difficult to teach children to read without books.

Ms. Grimes states that "Statistics indicate that the taxpayers certainly are not getting their monies worth, for a large percentage of children in school are illiterate." Yet, she gives no data to back up her statement. I have worked in the Romulus system for fifteen years and I have seen many students with low skill levels, but none was illiterate.

I would suggest that the people responsible for the problems of Romulus Community Schools are the people that are putting the "screw" in the apple of Romulus education. These are the people that have laid off teachers to save money when it is not in the interest of the students they say they care so much about.

Classes are at their largest size in the last fifteen years. This was done to save money because it is cheaper to load up teachers with an extra student in several classes. It costs the district 36 cents per extra student per day over our contract maximum work load. If that student stays the whole year in my class, I will earn an extra $64.80 over the next school year. I get less money than I paid a teen baby-sitter for the same amount of time.

Ms. Grimes wants teachers to serve as role models of the future. I serve as a role model for my child. He has seen that future and he wants no part of an educational system that "screws" its employees and cheats its students of an equal education and a share of the educational apple pie.

Barden's
cable TV
comet
soars

While holding off a rebellious force on his southern flank last Tuesday, Don H. Barden, President and Chief Executive Officer of Barden Cablevision, on Saturday night captured the hearts of the citizens and officials of Van Buren Township.

Barden and a host of dignitaries and citizens celebrated the Barden Cablevision of Van Buren System Dedication, and a standing room only crowd was on hand for the festivities at the facility, located at 43430 N. Service Drive.

But first to Romulus and the rebellion that never materialized.

Never one to turn away from criticism with complacency, Barden appeared before City Council to offer a "progress report" on cable. His critics asked him to appear because they said there was "no progress" on cable since Barden had been awarded the franchise in September of 1982.

At least a handful of Barden critics believed that history was going to repeat, that the unnatural repetition of a successful cable TV firm pulling out of a community would again occur. For, in 1982, after Comcast Corporation received council approval to build Romulus' inaugural cable TV system it had decided that maybe they had bitten off more than they could chew. Comcast pulled up stakes and left the area.

That Comcast decision was felt in neighboring Van Buren, which also had awarded its franchise to that company.

In stepped Barden who had completed to the delight of Inkster and the Inkster City council the cable TV system for that city of 10,500 homes.

Blessed and praised by the Inkster City Fathers, Barden's ship of destiny had been successfully launched into orbit. It picked up a major satellite — the biggest on this or any continent — when in August of this year, Detroit and Coleman Young jumped on the indefatigable Barden cable comet.

There are approximately a half-million homes in Detroit that are waiting to be turned on to cable TV.

Fortified with his successes and armed with a model of the building his company is constructing in Romulus, Barden again proved to Romulus that it had made the correct choice.

He promised city officials that "before the end of the year" Romulus will be hooked into his system. He explained in simple sentences the complex world of constructing cable TV.

And, after he was through, the torrent of criticism dissipated as quickly as it had materialized.

Barden had again got the job done.

In his address to the people of Van Buren, George Craven, Van Buren Township supervisor, noted:

"Even though our expectations had to be tempered with patience and the realities of constructing a cable system, I'm sure you'll all agree that the wait was well worth it."

Craven went on to say that he remained confident and enthusiastic in Barden's commitment to provide the best in quality programming services and a cable system second to none.

And, like the saying goes, "All good things come to those who wait."

Group homes:
a third look

EDITOR — In reviewing your opinion on group homes as expressed in an editorial that appeared in the Associated Newspapers on September 14 of this year and entitled "Another Look at Foster Care Homes," I would like to propose that we take another look beyond your opinions based on additional evidence.

You could call this: "Group Homes: A Third Look."

Protecting our republic and the rights of all citizens is a critically important and, at times complex, endeavor. There are instances where the first-blush response to an issue, even if a sincere intent and good deal of thought went into it, may seem less appropriate based on a later review of our experience regarding that issue (or a review of the experience of others).

Your editorial referenced above appears to fall into this category.

Noting the presence of controversy and opposition (and SUPPORT, lest we forget) which at times occurs when a small group home is developed in a new neighborhood, the Opinions Column proposed several things.

It proposes that neighborhoods should be allowed to volunteer to use a group home and it proposes that volunteer areas should be provided with an incentive such as a tax-break for their love-thy-neighbor posture.

I will also address other points of the Opinions, but first I want to respond with some additional information.

(1) — The literature and the experience of group homes in this state concur. While there may initially be some concern about the development of some group homes, once a home is established and any apprehensive neighbors discover that their worst fears will not actually occur, then the concerns dissipate and the neighborhood goes on as before. Several follow-up newspaper articles have addressed this point specifically and confirm the experience.

(2) — Regarding the probability of neighborhoods rushing forward to volunteer, while surveys consistently report support for community placement, information from an American Bar Association publication ("Zoning for Community Homes," ABA Commission on the Mentally Disabled) casts doubt on their being an adequate number of volunteers.

The publication cites the example of one state where (prior to having zoning enabling legislation for community group homes) a state Association for Retarded Citizens, its Governmental Affairs Committee, the state Developmental Disabilities Planning and Advisory Council and the Law Reform Project at the state university published informative materials.

Additionally, various ad hoc committees were established in various counties around the state to aid in allowing group homes into residential neighborhoods. At the time these efforts were undertaken, six subdivisions allowed group homes in. "After approximately one year of intensive efforts, only five more communities" had permitted group homes in. "Thus, notwithstanding a major investment of time and resources, only eleven" of over 930 municipal corporations specifically allowed group homes into residential areas. While it would certainly be nice for neighborhoods to volunteer to include group homes, it seems that this method would not result in an adequate number of homes. It should also be noted that there is nothing at this time to stop any neighborhood from stepping forward right now.

(3) — It would be interesting to speculate as to whether the integration of any minority would occur with reasonable frequency without the support of the law. Even with the support of the law, the media still infrequently has an account of a cross burning somewhere. It would seem that in this nation which is often referred to with pride as a melting pot, that there has frequently been some degree of heat associated with the 'melting' process.

Any change involves controversy and controversy is not necessarily bad, it is just a product of change which should be honestly and openly addressed.

Your editorial states that "residents will continue to fight, use abusive language and curse legislators up-and-down for forcing them to accept... undesirables." It implies that we should "compromise" the rights of our handicapped citizens "so that council and township board members do not have to take the abuse from residents... and to assure residents that they still live in a democracy."

It should certainly be noted that the Constitution and the laws of this Democracy were not created just to protect the strong and capable (who can more easily compete and defend their own rights) but, rather, to protect all citizens. This includes protection for our handicapped citizens and for their right to not be segregated (based on a requirement for only voluntary integration) from the kinds of neighborhoods that the rest of us enjoy living in.

Further, and finally, as a tax payer I do not approve of any plan that would give a tax break to neighborhoods merely for following the law and not discriminating against handicapped children and adults.

Tax breaks are nice but not when they are arbitrarily distributed for invalid reasons.

I do not believe that there is a need for revising any laws. I do believe that for the sake of all (handicapped and non-handicapped) that the news media as well as the departments developing homes should provide additional information to attempt to overcome misconceptions regarding the handicapped.

While all concerns cannot always be prevented, a responsible effort by the media and by others can prevent or reduce unnecessary anxiety. This is a good nation and, in these troubled international times, it needs to remain good for all citizens.

A street called Biddle

EDITOR — I am writing this letter to give one street in Wayne the recognition it so well deserves. This particular street is a mixture of old, young and very young. It has been a leader or a first in many things and I would like to site a few of these accomplishments.

Way back in the 50's, or maybe even earlier than that, Life Magazine felt that their street parades, picnics and baseball games were worth doing a picture story on. Those pictures are a part of the Wayne Historical Museum today.

In 1975 we were the only neighborhood that entered a float, which was a huge American Flag, in the bicentennial parade. We took a first place trophy which, unknowingly, was going to be one of many firsts.

This was the beginning of our yearly blocking of the street and partying, included were games for the kids and adults, passing a dish and volleyball.

1976 was the year we decided to all have a yard sale on the same day. Every year after that it became tradition to have a giant yard sale in the spring. The Associated Newspapers felt it was front page news and many streets have picked up on the idea since.

In 1981 we became involved in parade activities for the Fall Festival quite by accident. The kids decided to be in the bike parade so decorated their bikes but included a wagon complete with "Just Married" sign and cans with a mini, 3-year old, bride and groom. They were awarded first for the best float and first again for the best decorated bike (which was on the front page of the Eagle once again).

A first was captured again with our circus float in 1982 and again this year with "It's a Small World" float. (I think the Eagle forgot about the parade these past two years).

Our Street has been a first or leader in starting many activities that other neighborhoods have followed. I am very proud and feel very fortunate being a part of Biddle Street and I believe everyone in our "Biddle Bunch" would say the same.

Congratulations Biddle for being a very together street!

Summer's Gone

*Summer time is passing now,
Like music from a song.
A fleeting little melody
That doesn't last too long.*

*It seems we just get started
As we're playing in the sun.
When at once the lights go dim,
Another day is done.*

*The leaves are falling gently
As the pleasant breezes blow,
Like morning in a paradise,
We hate to see it go.*

*No matter how much fun we had Swimming in the pool.
The warm bright sun goes down too quick,
Leaving us quite cool.*

*Let us not be saddened,
For from nature we should learn
That life's majestic beauty
Is when seasons have their turn.*

Your favorite street corner

For the last couple of Sundays, Neal Shine, columnist for the Detroit Free Press, has written about favorite street corners, remembered by people who have written their memories to him.

I love nostalgia, and so it was last Sunday that I laid down his column, leaned back in my lawn chair, and while a breeze rustled through the drying leaves of the trees, I went back to my favorite street corner.

It wasn't exactly a street corner for we had to walk to stores down Main Street to get to Quasty's... a soda fountain and ice cream store where all the kids hung out.

After school, if you were lucky enough to have a nickel, you raced to Quasty's for whatever a nickel would buy. If you weren't lucky and had no money, then you waited until everyone else was there, and then walked in and pretended to be looking for someone. You could spend an hour laughing and talking with everyone, and not spend a penny.

Most of us were allowed to walk up to Quasty's in the evening and meet our friends. I can still remember those fall evenings, with the leaves falling on the sidewalk, and the air crisp with the hint of winter, when my best friend and I would meet on the corner of Lindbergh school and rush to our rendezvous with all the other kids. Always there was one special person we longed to see, although most weeks that special person had a different name and a different face. But always, absolutely always, he was the most handsome person that either one of us had ever seen in all of our lives!

At a quarter to nine, you slurped your last slurp of coke and made a beeline for home, for nine o'clock was the latest you could be out.

At the corner of Lindbergh school, Betty and I would say goodbye, and she would skip the two blocks to her home, and I would run, with my face turned toward the sky, reveling in the breeze blowing my hair, and the sweet caress of that breeze on my cheeks. It was a heady time!

Up onto the long porch I would leap and as I passed the living room windows on my way to the door, I could see my mother at the piano and my dad sitting on the floor, back against the piano, face upturned, drinking in the music and my mother's beauty.

"I'm home," I would shout as I tore through the hall, smelling the lemony smell of the wooden banisters and heading for the kitchen to devour everything that I couldn't or wouldn't touch at dinner.

At the round kitchen table my sister would be doing her homework and I would plop down beside her, open up my own schoolbooks and tear through my homework, inspired by the exciting evening.

I saw my best friend this last summer and even though fifty years have passed, we walked arm-in-arm to another little ice cream store and sat talking and laughing, and nothing really had changed, except my hair was white and hers a steel gray, and I had six kids and she had four, and I was a grandmother and she a great-grandmother. But the coke still slurped the same and the fun was there... only there were no 'special persons' popping in to make our hearts bound and quiver... at least none old enough to make an old heart feel young again.

to contend with former friends turning vicious over nothing more than varying degrees of temporary stomach trouble.

Was it really the DIA's fault?

Did they prepare the food or serve the food — or even endorse the food?

I'm not savvy about these things, but wouldn't the DIA's only contribution to the whole thing have been in lending their name to the whole affair in order to raise some needed money?

Correct me if I'm wrong, but in the inner circles of the very rich would this be called, "Biting the hand that bit the hand that feeds the hand that needs them"?

mona grigg

The rich are funny

Whoever said "The rich are different" said a mouthful. Only the rich would spend $115 for a plate of food in the name of charity and then, when the food causes a tummy-ache, sue the charity in whose name the food was partaken — and for $10,000, yet.

I've never been to a $115-a-plate dinner, so I don't know much about these things, but I hear tell that only the very naive expect $115 worth of food.

What you're really getting for your money when you pay that spectacular per-plate price is the privilege of aiding the charity (or political candidate, as the case may be) of your choice.

Le cuisine, I'm told, is pretty ordinaire.

So what did Dick Purtan and those 13 other party-goers-turned-litigants expect?

Well, they certainly didn't expect tummy aches. Especially not at the Renaissance Center, where the party was held, and certainly not at the hands of the supposed perpetrators, the venerable Founders Society of the Detroit Institute of Arts.

But there's where the rich are different. What would the rest of us have done in the same situation?

What if we had been invited to a dinner (at, more realistically, say $10-per-plate) to further a cause we cared about?

And what if we were served tainted food?

And what if our bodies were wracked with all of the unmentionables that go along with food poisoning and it was a couple of days before we even felt well enough to groan, "Am I dead yet?"

Would any of us even laughingly consider suing the very same charity we had cared enough about to attend the dinner in the first place? Of course we wouldn't.

But that's why we're where we are and they're where they are. The rich, I mean.

They think of those things. Money talks in their world. It only whimpers in ours.

But consider the poor chairty — in this case, the perennially under-fire DIA. It isn't enough that its director is on the block for overspending and mismanagement and allowing his friends to place arbitrary values on the "works of art" they themselves donate.

And it isn't enough that the institute and the Founders Society have to submit to the humiliation of an audit by the City of Detroit when that same city has neglected, since 1975, to fulfill their commitment to fund a portion of the museum's operation.

Now this highly acclaimed, world-class museum is forced

Judge Zaborowski comments British, American law systems do differ

By JERRY DESHARNAIS
Special ANP Writer

Judge Henry Zaborowski of the 34th District Court recently returned from a two-week seminar on British law in London.

He and 17 other Michigan judges attended actual court sessions each morning and in the afternoon, lectures by law professors and judges.

Asked to highlight some of the obvious distinctions between British law practice and that of the United States, Judge Zaborowski offered these insights:

"Our system is more protective of the defendant's rights," Zaborowski said. "Whereas the British system depends on the professionalism of their police departments to bring the proper defendant to court and not prosecute the innocent party."

"Our system depends on the court to protect the innocent."

Zaborowski, District judge since January, 1975, explained that in England they do not have small police departments. Their departments are large with great supervision and more professionalism to train police officers.

The United States on the other hand is large and wide with many police departments of a variety of experience. Consequently, there is more of a possibility of error on the police side and the law has shifted naturally to defend the accused.

"Our law yields to defend the individual," he observed.

Therefore, the British have no Miranda Law. We elected public prosecutors. And plea bargaining as a legal device is not quite as open.

"The police departments are the actual prosecutors in lower or magistrate courts," Zaborowski said.

"So that seems to be a primary 'emphasis' of the British system."

Another distinction, Zaborowski notes, has to do with the style of their law, rooted in its character.

"Their system in the higher courts is more of a 'closed shop'," Zaborowski said, "because the barrister (lawyer who pleads cases) and the judges all belong to the same 'club' or Inns of Court - the establishment of barristers or trial lawyers."

"There is more debating in court," he continued, "but there is less 'advocacy' as we have."

"Since barristers are both prosecutors and defenders," he adds, "they tend not to be advocates outside of court."

This implies that since lawyers change roles, there is a natural muting of their emphasis on pleading a cause.

"We have, with our public prosecutors and our defense bar (lawyers), more advocacy (pleading of a cause) proceedings. We litigate (lawsuits) more. Not only that, but we litigate outside of court, in law schools, journals, and newspapers."

"In England, you may have a good bar with wigs and robes, but in the States we have more strategy, litigations, motions - strategic advocacy."

"It appears that our defendants are much better represented," he concludes.

Judge Zaborowski noted some other distinctions between the British and American systems as they have evolved, both from the same judicial roots:

In England, you can appeal the sentence as well as the merits of the case to the higher court. This tends to shorten the sentences.

In the U.S. you can only appeal the merits of the case.

In England, police can arrest on suspicion or if a crime is about to happen.

In the U.S., we have to have probable cause that a crime has been committed.

In England, there are no jury trials for offenses with sentences of six months or under.

In England, there are two types of judges in the magistrates court (where cases six months in sentence or under are tried): (1) a stipendiary magistrate (a legally trained judge who is paid) and (2) a lay magistrate - three persons from the community with no law background who try cases and give sentences at least 26 days a year for life. These lay magistrates could be doctors, librarians. They do not get paid. A clerk (lawyer) advises the lay magistrates of the law.

There are differences in British and American legal systems, and the observations that Judge Zaborowski made are only the top of the iceberg. The judge taped the lectures and is now proceeding to listen again to what he heard and what he learned.

"It broadened my perspective of the law," he notes, "and it gave me more confidence in the job I'm doing now."

"It will prevent me from becoming stereotyped in that I would not view our system as the only way to do things."

And as for the question, which system is better?

"They get things done just like us," he answers, "but in a different fashion."

Zaborowski, 56, represents Belleville, Romulus, and the Townships of Huron, Sumpter, and Van Buren.

He is a graduate of the Detroit College of Law. He and his wife Patricia are the parents of three grown children and reside in Van Buren Township. Zaborowski has been in general practice since 1963 when he was admitted to the bar.

Zaborowski is the president of the Wayne County District Judge's Association. Currently, he fills in once a month as Circuit Court judge at the new branch Circuit Court in Westland.

The comparative judicial program in London and Cambridge was sponsored by the Michigan State University School of Criminal Justice in cooperation with the Institute of Criminology at Cambridge University and the British Academy of Forensic Sciences.

WAS (NOT WAS)

"Smile," both of which feature Fieger; "The Party Broke Up," and of course, the torchy 40's number the Was Bros. wrote a few months ago, "Zaz Turned Blue."
The weirdest cut on the record (and that's no easy feat) has got to be "Man Vs. The Empire Brain Building," which puts the following lyrics to an amazingly catchy beat:
"In my life there's just three things:
Man vs. Nature
Man vs. woman
and Man vs. the empire brain building."

Sure it's bizarre, but it still beats out "Highway to hell" on the I.Q. test.
So, if you can't stand even the mention of Christopher Cross's name, hate anything sounding even remotely like Journey, Styx or Kansas, and refuse to drink decaffeinated Coke, then maybe, just maybe, "Born To Laugh At Tornadoes" is for you.
No doubt about it, these guys are going somewhere in the scheme of music as we know it, and if that sounds a little pretentious, then I'll put it in a more straightforward manner: Buy this record. It's good. It's strange. And it's certainly more interesting than Toto.

Goal-line stand

One of the key series in the Belleville-Wayne game Friday night was the successful goal-line stand by Belleville in the second quarter when they refused to bow to the Zebra ballcarriers. Belleville held for four downs on its own three-yard line and went on to win their first Wolverine "A" Conference football game.

Glenn swimmers are undefeated

First year Westland John Glenn swim coach Jim Watts has moved up to the head coaching position, replacing Debbie Sanders, and has managed to perpetuate the Rockets' winning tradition.

With Robina Gow capturing two first places and anchoring the 400-yard freestyle relay, Glenn dunked Chelsea 110-48 for their second victory of the 1983 campaign. The Westlanders had opened up with a close 91-81 triumph over Livonia Bentley.

"We have the nucleus of an experienced team," said Watts who had served as assistant coach to Jim McPartlin at Wayne Memorial a year ago. "I feel we can continue to win with these kids if they improve." Glenn was to meet Wyandotte Tuesday for its third test.

Gow put the 200-yard freestyle event in the Rocket win column as she churned a 2:10, then also earned a first for her 1:07.9 effort for the 100-yard backstroke. Shelly Pilarski, Chris Cabrera and Julie Joyce made up the other part of that winning freestyle relay team which was clocked in 4:07.6.

Pilarski also posted a 27.1 for the 50-yard freestyle and touched in at 60.6 in winning the 100-yard freestyle.

The Westlanders put together a medley relay team of Kasia Wilson, Elena Drake, Lauren Scheman and Debbie Ruehle to win in 2:07.1. Drake finished first in the 500-yard freestyle (5:49.9); Scheman has a 1:10.9 in winning the 100-yard butterfly, while Patty Klimek compiled 170.1 to win the diving board competitions.

Although they had one less victory than Bentley, the Rockets had the depth to stop the Bulldogs in their final meeting with the Livonia-based high school. (Bentley is scheduled to close next year).

Watts put together Gow, Drake, Scheman and Pilarski for his winning combination in the medley relay. The 2:03.0 established a school record. Drake also broke the old school mark for the 100-yard breaststroke when she turned in a 1:15.2.

Pilarski's 26.9 was good enough for a win in the 50-yard freestyle and Cabrera had a 6:16.4 for the 500-freestyle and Gow managed to card a victory in the 100-backstroke for her 1:08.1 performance.

"There were several very close races against Bentley," Watts noted. "This one could have gone either way."

Rollerskate program planned

The Romulus Parks and Recreation Department is offering a roller-skating program to residents, beginning Oct. 12.

The recreation officials say that they will bus rollerskating enthusiasts to the Skateland Rink in Westland where they may enjoy an afternoon of skating.

There is a $1 transportation fee per person, (adult down to 5-year-olds) plus the fee charged by the roller rink for admission and skate rental. Residents should telephone 941-0666, extension 254 for further information.

Want to play volleyball?

The Canton Parks and Recreation Department will launch its 1983 women's volleyball program on Tues., Oct. 18 at the Fiegl Elementary School gym. The program is conducted between the hours of 7 to 9:30 p.m. and there is a $10 registration fee for the 10-week session.

For further information, please contact the Canton Recreation offices at 397-1000.

Wayne falls 13-6
Belleville grid stock soars

History-making Belleville increased the value of its football stock Friday night at the expense of Wayne Memorial.

Getting 100-yard plus rushing game out of Leonard Armstrong and coming up with a goal-line stand that frustrated the Zebras, Belleville earned its first Wolverine "A" Conference victory, 13-6, in handing Wayne their second consecutive league loss of the campaign.

"We feel fortunate that we beat a real fine Wayne football team," said Michael Colletta whose troops will go up against an under-rated Wyandotte club on Friday. "Our victory can be attributed to some good things that we did, plus capitalizing on some of Wayne's errors."

"I also feel our defense put pressure on Quartuccio when it counted and that helped turn things around for us," Colletta concluded.

Although Mike Quartuccio, the Wayne quarterback, connected on nine of 28 passes for 148 yards, the Zebras failed to get on the scoreboard until the final minutes.

Wayne Coach Floyd Carter said his team had its chances to win, and missed.

"You can't take anything away from Belleville. Their kids came ready to play," Carter added, "but we had our chances to score and didn't. We missed assignments up front, and we had other problems. We were on their 3-yard line in the second quarter and failed to get in."

"Things like that can hurt you all around," Carter said.

Belleville got on the scoreboard midway in the first quarter when Herb Hoerig capped a six-play, 68-yard drive with a 9-yard touchdown run. That TD was set up by a spectacular 42-yard draw play that saw runningback Leonard Armstrong breeze past the Wayne line of defense. Ken Krug kicked the extra point and with 5:32 left, Belleville had a 7-0 lead.

Belleville's defense, led by tackles Jim Budd, Frank Ash and Dennis Montie, along with middle guard Hoerig, managed to shut out the potent Wayne offense for three periods while the Tigers added a third quarter TD to their margin.

That touchdown in the third frame came after a 70-yard sustained drive engineered by quarterback Bob Courter who gave Armstrong the call for the final three yards. Armstrong had contributed a 40-yard dash earlier in the series, almost the identical to the earlier gain.

Wayne broke the ice late in the game when Quartuccio found Kwan Hearn open in the end zone and hit him with a 11-yard TD pass. Quartuccio was sacked on the extra point attempt. The Zebras went 27 yards in two plays after Mike Besco had recovered a Tiger fumble.

Armstrong had a superb night as he racked up 107 yards in 22 carries including the touchdown. Courter also was on target with six of 11 passes for 45 yards while Quartuccio countered with 148 yards for nine completions.

The duel against Belleville cost Wayne the services of fullback Bob McArthur who sprained his ankle and will be out for three weeks, but the Zebras may have found a capable replacement in Juan Hearn, a 6-0, 180-pound sophomore who filled in for McArthur. Hearn also did a commendable job at linebacker.

Donnie Lynn, who has two broken fingers, and Marvin Parnell, with a bruised rib along with Besco, who has knee and ankle problems are also doubtful starters for this week.

Wayne clashes with Trenton Friday night, and Carter views the meeting as crucial. With a 1-2 league record, the Zebras can't afford another loss and realistically hope to finish above the .500 mark in the conference. Trenton is also coming off of a last-second loss at Fordson.

"We're going to have to move some people around for them (Trenton)," said Carter. "And, believe me, we got to be ready to play."

Colletta also sounded a warning about the pending clash with Wyandotte.

"Sure they (Wyandotte) haven't won a game but they are probably the best 0-4 team in the state. Look who they have lost to — Dearborn, Fordson and Trenton — so if we're going to rest on our laurels we'll be in deep trouble."

Sports Briefs

Westland-GC cage talks are set

The Westland-Garden City men's basketball league's organizational meeting is scheduled for 7:15 p.m., Wed., Oct. 12 at the Bailey Recreation Center, 36651 Ford Road in Westland.

Team entries will be limited to the first 12 registered. There is a $320 fee for the 12-games and returning teams should register from Oct. 13 through Oct. 31. New teams will be accepted during the period of Nov. 1 through 6.

The league will offer Monday or Friday games and further information may be obtained by telephoning 722-7620.

Ward hauls in 3 passes for Tech

Sophomore wide receiver Jim Ward of Canton caught three passes for 27 yards as Michigan Tech rallied for two fourth quarter TDs but came up short at Northern Michigan, 28-21.

Down by 21 points, the Huskies scored twice in the final period, both on passes, but couldn't come up with another score as time ran out.

Rogers adds a couple of more TDs

Trying to catch (up) to Rick Rogers, the former Wayne Memorial runningback who started at tailback for Michigan may be difficult. He's just too fast, especially when the Wolverines took on Wisconsin. In the Wolverines' 38-21 victory, the 6-2, 216-pound junior who hails from Inkster, carried the ball 10 times for 59 yards and scored Michigan's first two touchdowns, the second gave the Wolverines a lead that they never relinquished.

Rogers leads all Michigan rushers with 253 yards on 51 carries for 4.0 yards per carry average. His four touchdowns in three games equals his total output from last year.

Mandle is 'Player of the Week'

Rusty Mandle has earned a niche in the Saginaw Valley football record book. The former Plymouth Canton star last week led his team to an upset of previously No. 1 ranked Hillsdale College as he scored on a 33-yard run and passed for a 16-yard TD in the 14-8 victory.

Mandle's heroics earned him the NAIA District 23 "Offensive Player of the Week" honors and also, for the second consecutive week, the Saginaw QB was named as the Great Lakes Conference "Player of the Week".

Mandle now holds the record at Saginaw Valley as the quarterback who has been involved in the most offensive plays.

Hillsdale had earned national recognition for its defense which had given up a stingy five yards on the ground for its first three games. The loss was also the first for the pre-season conference title favorite whose record dipped to 3-1.

Never too busy

By HOWARD SCOTT
ANP Staff Writer

John Flodin, Canton Township Clerk

John Flodin is generally considered one of the area's best gardeners. At his home in Canton, Flodin grows a variety of plants and vegetables in all sizes and shapes.

"I enjoy growing just about everything," said Flodin. I've lived here for 62 years now, and I have been gardening just about as long as I can remember."

Flodin claims that he really doesn't have a favorite crop, but he lists tomatoes as one of his most bountiful.

"If the weather is cooperative, you can really grow some nice ones around here," Flodin said. "Weather makes a lot of difference, though, no matter what you are trying to grow."

You say that the only time your thumb even slightly looks green is after you've smacked it with a hammer? Flodin has a little bit of advice for those just starting.

"The Wayne County Extension Service can be very helpful," he said. "They can help people find out how to grow different things, and where and when to grow them."

It should come as no surprise to anyone that local politicians are busy people. Besides their civic duties, most also hold down full-time jobs, and several are also involved with other organizations.

Regardless of how complicated these peoples' lives are, they all seem to find some time to spend on a favorite hobby or pasttime.

All work and no play is supposed to make Jack a dull boy. Judging from the activities in which these people participate none of them is in any danger of ever being labeled dull.

Tom Daily, City Manager, Wayne

Tom Daily, Wayne City Manager

Daily is another local leader who admits to having been bitten by the wanderlust bug.

"We like to travel up to Port Austin and the AuSable River," Daily said. "My family and I like to get up there several times during the year."

When Daily is forced to stay closer to home, he still likes to spend his time on the road.

"I like to jog between 12 and 15 miles a week," Daily said. "Exercise is one of my interests in several forms. When I can't jog as often as I'd like, I try to play golf, or handball."

Daily also spends a great deal of his summer time coaching an entry in an Over 35 softball league.

"We don't play a real intense version of the game," Daily said. "We all just kind of get together to have a good time."

Thomas Artley,
Westland City Council President

The Artley family

When Artley isn't sitting behind the table in the council chambers, he admits that he likes to spend some time on the road with his family.

"I like to hunt, and I like to travel around the state with my wife and kids," said Artley. "We like to get up north as often as time allows."

Artley, who is the father of five children, ranging in age from 9 to 20, also commented that his offspring's activities keep him busy.

"My kids are involved in all kinds of sports, and that has kept me involved as well," Artley said. "I've been an assistant hockey coach, and I also have spent some time watching my kids play baseball, softball and basketball."

Deborah Block,
Westland Parks and Recreation Director

Block's main activity these days is one that most of us probably would not envy.

"I seem to spend most of my time these days studying," Block commented. "I'm finishing up my master's degree at Eastern, and it takes up most of my free time."

When she does get some time to herself, Block says that she enjoys playing racquetball and downhill skiing.

"With the job I have, I kind of get involved with all kinds of sports," Block said. "But I especially enjoy playing racquetball when I get a chance."

Robert Wagner,
Westland City Councilman

On Wagner's biography, prepared as part of his campaign he lists flying, scuba and skin diving, gardening, boating, fishing, golfing, acting and directing as hobbies.

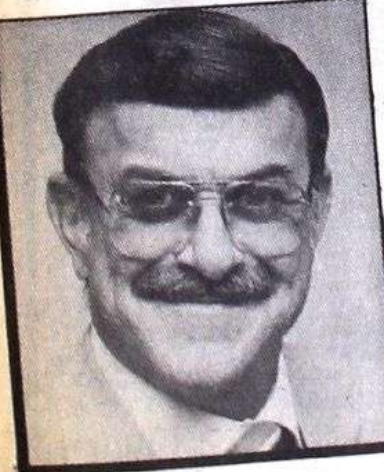

Needless to say, the city council keeps Wagner much too busy these days for him to participate in all of the mentioned activities, but he still does find some leisure time.

"I think boating is probably one of my favorites right now," said Wagner. "We have a cottage near Kalkaska, and I like to boat and water ski up there."

Wagner also professes to have a winning way with the greenery.

"I like to garden quite a bit. This year, I grew all the standard things, tomatoes and squash and that sort of thing, but next year, I hope to have a bigger garden," Wagner said.

The councilman also spent some time working with the Wayne-Westland Civic Theater in the past, but he has had to pass on those activities due to time limitations.

Anniversaries celebrated

• Mr. and Mrs. William Czaja — 60 years •

Sixty years of togetherness were marked Saturday, Sept. 24, when William and Anna (Kuptz) Czaja were feted at a reception at the Marine Corps League in Dearborn Heights.

Married at St. Stanislaus Church in Detroit on Sept. 26, 1923, the Czajas have two daughters, Virginia Polovino and Gladys Michalek, a son, William, nine grandchildren and 12 great-grandchildren.

Residents of 22135 Carleton-West Road, Belleville, they have lived in the community for some 47 years. Mr. Czaja, who retired in 1971 from the Ford Motor Company, and his wife are members of St. Stephen's Catholic Church in New Boston. During recent Sumpter Days festivities, they were honored as the township's longest married couple.

At the party hosted by Mrs. Polovino, Mrs. Michalek and her husband, John, and William Czaja and his wife, Winona, bells and streamers, wedding pictures and a tiered cake in lavender and white were used as decorative touches. Among those attending from Detroit, Inkster, Taylor, Romulus, Warren and Sterling Heights were two members of the 1923 bridal coterie, Theresa Rudolph and Phil Renke.

• Mr. and Mrs. Grove H. Shephard — 50 years •

Because they will be in Florida and away from many of their relatives and friends when their golden wedding anniversary falls, Mr. and Mrs. Grove H. Shephard of Juniper Drive, Belleville, and Boynton Beach, Fla., celebrated the occasion two months early, on Oct. 2 at the Belle Plaza Hall of Belleville.

Mrs. Shephard, the former Iva M. Hatzenbuehler of Mt. Clemens, exchanged vows with Grove H. Shephard on Dec. 9, 1933, in Angola, Ind. Four children were eventually added to their family tree: Mary Ellen, who lives with her husband, John Marossy in Miramar, Fla.; Marion Joy, who lives in Troy with her husband, John Nolan; Donald R. of Utica; and Rita Ann, who lives in Wixom with her husband, Richard Hutmam. There are also 13 grandchildren and one great-grandchild to be counted.

Mr. Shephard retired from G. M. Diesel in 1966 after 31 years of service with the company. He now enjoys gardening, woodworking and playing the organ. His wife's pastimes include knitting, crocheting, sewing and oil painting. Both are members of St. Mark's Church in Boynton Beach where Mrs. Shephard is active with the Madonna Guild of Miami Archdiocese of Catholic Women. During their months in Michigan they take part in September Days Senior Citizens' activities.

The day of celebration for the Shephards began with mass and the renewal of their vows before The Rev. Arthur Fauser at St. Albert the Great Church in Dearborn Heights. At the party which followed, a cake made and decorated by a cousin, Mrs. Arthur Shephard of Belleville, was served. Guests were present from Mt. Clemens, Livonia, Detroit, Kalamazoo, Bloomfield and Belleville.

With the exception of the Marossys, all the couple's children attended. Florida residents, the Marossys will observe the 50th anniversary on its actual date which is also the 49th birthday of Mrs. Marossy.

• Mr. and Mrs. Lee Allion — 40 years •

Another anniversary celebration "moved up" to accommodate a son who was home on leave from the Middle East was that of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Allion of Edgedale Drive, Belleville.

With their parents' 40th year approaching on Oct. 22, the Allion offspring decided on hush-hush tactics and on Sept. 24 surprised them with a family party complete with a decorated wedding cake.

Present for the occasion were the couple's four children and seven grandchildren: Gregory and his wife, Mary Ellen, and their children from Westland; Dennis and his wife, Theresa, and their three daughters — Lt. Cmdr. Allion, USN, who is stationed in Saudi Arabia being home on leave; Linda and her husband, Richard Lawson, and their son from Indianapolis, Ind. and Bruce of Belleville.

Also taking part in the congratulations were the "bride's" sister, Mary Boon, and a niece, Roseary Williamson, both of Brooklyn, MI.; Lee's sister, Vivian Salzman, and a friend, James Armstrong of Bryan, O.; Mr. and Mrs. Louis Brough of Ann Arbor and Mary McLaughlin of Belleville.

Lee Allion and Phyllis Brubaker were united in marriage, Oct. 22, 1943 at the Methodist Church in Wayne. They have been residents of this area for some 31 years and are members of the First United Methodist Church of Belleville and its Adult Fellowship Club. She is currently president of the UMW (United Methodist Women.)

Self-employed (his business is Associated Boring Co. Inc. of Belleville), Mr. Allion is a member of the Belleville Rotary Club. His wife, a former registered nurse, retired in 1979 from Annapolis Hospital. She is currently serving as secretary-treasurer for the Annapolis Retiree Club.

LaMothes honeymoon in Hawaiian Islands

Vases of burgundy roses and white and dusty rose carnations graced the altar of St. John Neumann Church in Canton as Glenda Robinson of Fordham Road, Canton, and George A. LaMothe of Belleville Road, Belleville, exchanged nuptial vows and wedding bands.

The Rev. E. Baldwin presided at the six o'clock rite before some 175 guests. Organist Larry Wegrzyn accompanied himself as he sang three solos, "We've Only Just Begun," "The Rose" and "And Then There's Love."

Given in marriage by her son, Kenneth Robinson, and daughter, Mrs. Deborah Comini, the bride appeared in a gown of white lace over satin, the bodice being designed with a lace-embellished illusion neckline and cape sleeves and the pleated lace skirt with a circular chapel train.

She wore a white lace picture hat with a full-length veil attached and completed her ensemble with a colonial bouquet of burgundy roses and white and dusty rose carnations.

Doris Robinson of Westland was honor attendant for her sister-in-law. She carried flowers similar to the bridal bouquet, tucked burgundy baby's breath in her hair and wore a burgundy gown with a pleated satin skirt and fishnet bodice.

Best man was James Lange of Belleville. Ushers included Shawn LaMothe of Belleville, son of the bridegroom; and Sean Robinson, Larry Gene Robinson and Tim Robinson, nephews of the bride.

Following a reception for 175 guests in the Burgundy Room of the Knights of Columbus Hall in Wayne, the newlyweds departed for a 10-day honeymoon in Hawaii and on their return took up residence at 8045 Belleville Road, Belleville.

The new Mrs. LaMothe graduated from Byrd High School in Shreveport, La. and is currently working toward a teaching certificate at Eastern Michigan University. She is employed as librarian at Wildwood School in Westland.

Her husband, a Romulus High School alumnus, holds an associate degree from Henry Ford Community College, is Fire Chief of Van Buren Township's No. 2 Fire Department and is employed in the maintenance department at the Ford Motor Co. in Ypsilanti.

The rehearsal dinner, given by the bridal pair at the Golden Feather Restaurant in Garden City, included the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George B. LaMothe of Inkster, his five children and their spouses and the bride's two children and their mates.

Junior clubsters set fall calendar

The September meeting of the GFWC Belleville Junior Study Club took place at the Martinsville Road home of Cathy Horste on Sept. 20. The traditional open membership meeting, it was attended by 24 members and special guests: Judy Keech, JoAnn Tadrick, Jan McMillan and Nancy McGuire, all of Van Buren Township.

Nancy Sawyer, club president, inducted three new members: Joannie Payne, Kitty Miller and Vicky Leischner, all local residents, into the Belleville Juniors.

Final preparations were made for the Michigan State Federation of Junior Women's Clubs' 50th anniversary Junior Fall Conference, which the Belleville group hosted in Ann Arbor on Oct. 1.

Tentative plans were also laid for the annual "Ingathering" open house at Girlstown during which the Belleville Juniors will be hostesses.

The traditional "Giving Tree" project, wherein club members decorate a Christmas tree in the lobby of the National Bank of Detroit, will be chaired by newcomer Kitty Miller. Handcrafted tree ornaments are available on the tree for local residents to take home in exchange for a Christmas gift for a needy child. The tree will be decorated in early November at the Belleville NBD.

At the October meeting, current changes and new plans for education for gifted children in the Van Buren Public Schools will be discussed. For further information on the club, or if you would care to attend the next meeting, call 697-0764.

Quotes worth quoting . . .

"One of the surest ways of preserving the illusion of youth is the scrupulous avoidance of all class reunions past the 10th."

Sidney Harris said it.

BY LEE SMITH
Suburban Living Editor

"What a day this has been, what a rare mood I'm in" — to quote (hummingly) those two Lerner and Loewe lines which are tailor-made for today's euphoric feeling.

It's Wednesday, the last one in September, and perhaps you, too, will recall it as "one of those days" if only because you realized how few perfect ones remain in this season called autumn. The sun, after burning off the early morning haze, is hot, thankfully without its usual companion humid, and without a single cloud to diminish its power.

Just back from the golf course (the last Ladies Day of the season) I can hardly wait to impress BG with my chip-in birdie shot on Number 17. It was a lovely morning to be communing with nature — my score might have been two digital had I not been "elsewhere" — observing the scalloped patterns left on the apron after the greens had been swept or watching the pair of squirrels frantically mouthing hickory nuts as we teed off in their wooded kingdom.

Then, too, there was that awesome ethereal view between holes as the sun filtered through the trees and spotlighted the maple at the top of the hill — impressive with its mauve-magenta bouffant coiffure.

The redheaded woodpeckers were absent from their usual haunt but the bluejays made up for the void by noisily showing off their colorful wingspans.

The par 5 fairway hill, still veiled with dew, provided a perfect backdrop for the designs etched by three-and-four-wheeled golf-carts — our top-of-the-crest tee giving us an aerial view of the unplanned artistry. (See why I "happened" to flub a shot now and then?)

Nature was not alone in making it "such a day" since the trio which completed my foursome also gets credit for the pleasant, unhurried morning. The day itself had set the mood for awareness and more than once the phrase, "Boy, it's great to be alive!" was voiced.

Exchanging recipes over lunch, hearing of planned trips and looking back on vacations-past (just a year ago we were "doing" the World's Fair), sharing hobbies, discussing the latest JFK biography — easy, comfortable girltalk — turned a simple BLT and ice tea into a rather special occasion.

Then tooling home in my little yellow "convertible" (golfcart) via the scenic neighborhood route, I was able to note the progress made on one family's house-pool addition and the new growth on another's recently seeded front lawn. Added to that was a farmer readying the field of rich, black soil across from us for a planting of winter wheat, the delightful squeals of pre-schoolers at play and the call of a crazy rooster who didn't seem to know it was afternoon. But, who knows, perhaps he, too, found the day something to crow about.

Discovering a couple (and what I fear are the final) zucchini in the garden and getting six more small loaves of bread from them also added pluses to the gold medal day. Actually having all the ingredients for an enticing chicken-mozzarella recipe I'd clipped the night before (not having to run to the store) didn't hurt either.

Enjoying still another evening meal out on the porch — the western exposure perfect at this time of year — and having the aforementioned dish turn out to be a clone of the magazine picture, made for a September 28th worth talking — and writing — and even singing about.

P.S. Look for that recipe elsewhere in Suburban Living; it's worth trying and takes a mere 30 minutes.

THINGS YOU'LL FIND
KINDA HARD TO BELIEVE

Each year the average American worker gets two weeks of paid time off — through the institution of the coffee break.

Researchers report from the University of Michigan that the nation's divorce rate doubled between 1965 and 1978 and that di-vorice now equals or exceeds death as the event that terminates marriage.

When asked, "If you were to get enough money to live as comfortably as you'd like for the rest of your life, would you continue to work?", 71.5 percent of Americans answered yes while only 28.5 percent said no.

A jogger's heel strikes the ground 1,500 times a mile, or 10,000 times an hour. (D'ya suppose Achilles was a jogger?)

One grown American in five works crossword puzzles, making this the nation's most popular sedentary addiction.

MORE MENU TERMS,
S'IL VOUS PLAÎT

Reaction to our first few translations of foreign menu phrases was good enough to warrant running several more. Store them in your memory bank, now.

If it's that elaborate Spanish casserole of rice, seafood and poultry seasoned with saffron that you're thinking of ordering it's called paella and is pronounced pie-AY-yah.

Labeled "Veronique" (ver-ro-NEEK), it's a meat or fish dish which contains seedless white grapes and is very likely to be found in that little French restaurant.

That same place might also list something Saint Germain (san-zer-MAYN) which, named after the French city, is applied to foods made with green peas.

Chantilly (and most of us pronounce that acceptably) describes a dessert prepared or served with whipping cream.

En papillote means a method of baking and serving food such as fish in parchment or brown paper. Another French term, you say ahn-POP-e-lowt when ordering.

There'll be more at a later date and perhaps some cooking terms as well.

THE BOTTOM LINE: A big blow from a stranger hurts much less than a small blow from a friend.

Surprise, surprise!!

Hobo dinner given for Harry

Harry Zoller was the surprised guest of honor Sept. 24 when some 60 friends and relatives gathered to help celebrate his birthday with a "hobo" dinner.

Planned by his wife, Sophie, daughter, Pamela, and nephew, Ted Smolinski, the meal was cooked in one large container on an outdoor open woodfire grill. The "pot" include roast beef, onions, rutabaga, carrots, potatoes, cabbage, Polish sausage and corn on the cob.

Added to the menu were various salads and desserts and, of course, a birthday cake.

The weather was most favorable and allowed the group to sit around the "campfire" later in the evening for a bit of reminiscing.

Potluck honors Nancy

Another surprised birthday person with a September natal date was Nancy Shephard whose husband, Brian, was the "culprit" in her case. Held at the home of his mother, Verdys Shephard of Elwell Road, the party centered around a potluck supper and specially decorated cake, courtesy the hostess.

and games which rounded out the evening were the honoree's parents, Ray and Martha Ostrowski and their daughter, Mary; Jim and Pat Shephard with Kim and Daryle; Roger and Diane Ferguson with Shari and Shawn; Leslie Ferguson and a friend, Sandy Huczek; Jack and Mickie Keelan and son, Gabriel, and Fay and Mary Ferguson, all of Belleville.

Seven attend MSFW confab

Seven members of the GFWC Belleville Junior Study Club attended the Southeast District Convention of the Michigan State Federation of Women's Clubs at Fairlane Manor in Dearborn Sept. 20. Nancy Sawyer, the Belleville club president; Sandra Lauth, Southeast District Education Department chairman; Cathy Horste, Junior Federation secretary; Maxine Lane, State Federation treasurer, and members Suzie Fry, Kittie Davies and Connie Etter represented their organization.

The convention featured workshops on projects of special interest to Federation members. Lauth and Horste gave workshops on special education and volunteer service to veterans' hospitals, respectively. Horste was elected to serve as first vice-president of the Southeast District of MSFW Clubs and Nancy Sawyer was elected to serve as the Wayne County representative to the district's nominating committee.

Easy skillet chicken

Here's that 30-minute entree, Skillet Chicken Mozzarella, I mentioned in "potpourri." If you like chicken, you'll love this!

SKILLET CHICKEN MOZZARELLA

1 medium green pepper, cut in bite-size pieces
1 small onion, sliced
2 medium zucchini, cut in 1/2-inch pieces
2 large chicken breasts, skinned and boned
2 tablespoons flour
1/4 teaspoon salt

1/2 teaspoon pepper
2 tablespoons salad oil
1 15-oz. jar spaghetti sauce
1/2 teaspoon sugar
4 slices mozzarella cheese

Cut each chicken breast in half. With meat mallet or dull edge of a saucer, pound each breast half to 1/4-inch thickness. On waxed paper, combine flour, salt and pepper; coat chicken pieces in mixture. In 10-inch skillet over medium-high heat in hot salad oil, cook chicken pieces until browned on both sides. Remove chicken to plate. In drippings remaining, cook onion and green pepper over medium heat until just tender-crisp, stirring frequently. Return chicken to skillet; add spaghetti sauce, sugar and zucchini. Heat to boiling. Reduce heat to low; cover and simmer 15 minutes or until chicken and vegetables are fork-tender. Top each chicken breast with a slice of mozzarella (to fit more or less); cover and simmer until cheese melts, about 2 minutes. Serves 4 at 470 calories per serving.

Looking at tomorrow.

Rest assured. Just because Michigan Bell is separating from AT&T this January doesn't mean you'll be separated from good phone service... not for even a second. You can count on the same highly skilled people to watch over your service, as always. And when you pick up your phone on New Year's Day you'll hear the same reliable dial tone you've heard for years.

But we'll be bringing you a lot more than a dial tone. For one thing, we will continue to exercise our almost unlimited options for selecting and implementing the very latest technology from a wide variety of communications suppliers.

What that means to you, as we go down the line, is faster, more efficient and more flexible service with many interesting choices for you. One of the innovations we'll continue to adopt for the future is electronic switching service. This will give almost everyone in Michigan the chance to opt for Touch-Tone® Service, Custom Calling Services and other communication conveniences.

Lightwave cable is a recent transmission development that can carry as many as 96,000 simultaneous conversations. And soon it will send your voice and messages with the speed of light.

Before long, your telephone will be capable of performing surprising electronic tricks, such as ringing a certain way to let you know exactly who's calling. You'll have a new way to shop by phone in stores all over the country... to handle financial transactions by talking directly to your bank's computer. To receive electronic mail. To play bridge. And even to call your oven and tell it to start dinner.

These are just a sampling of the technological advancements you can expect to enjoy through Michigan Bell. The point is very simple: Next year we'll be bringing you the same good old dial tone, but we won't be the same old phone company. We'll be pulling out all the stops to bring you the last word in phone service. After all...

IT'S AT&T
WE'RE SEPARATING FROM...
NOT YOU.

Michigan Bell

Facts down the line. Because your telephone business office is busily engaged in normal, day-to-day telephone service matters, we are providing this toll-free number as a source for answers to the questions you may have about your changing telephone company. We also suggest that you watch for our informational messages in your newspapers and in your monthly telephone bills. 1 800 555-5000

'Time to end jinx?'

Romulus to host Oak Park for Homecoming

Building up a 14-0 lead in the third quarter, Taylor Center spoiled Romulus's football debut in the Metro Conference Saturday afternoon by handing Coach Norb Glover's Eagles' their second successive defeat of the season.

"We committed too many crucial errors at key moments," Coach Glover said, "and I have to attribute that to our inexperience. We had a couple of drives that took us into Taylor's 20-yard line only to kill them by turnovers."

Romulus averted the shutout late in the third quarter when Jerome Austin scored from the 12-yard line. Austin also kicked the extra point. A 40-yard pass-run play with quarterback Terry Roache's toss to Darrin Grandson set up the TD.

Austin picked up 81 yards on 12 tries to pace the Eagle ballcarriers. Defensively, Romulus received outstanding efforts from nose guard Shawn Perkins who accounted for nine solo tackles, while Tracy Cline, a tackle, and defensive end Chappell Garfield also counted a handful of unassisted tackles between them.

The Eagles will return home Friday night to take on Oak Park at 7:30 p.m. before a Homecoming crowd. They'll also be faced with an onus of a "jinx". The Eagles have not won on their home field since switching to the junior high school's field and playing under the lights.

Glover, who is in his second year as head coach, would like to snap a 5-game losing streak on the home turf. "I don't know what it is," Glover said, "but we just can't win at home. Maybe this will be it. Let me add this however. If we didn't play as a team against Belleville or Willow Run, we did look like a team in our loss to Taylor. "If we can improve, I feel that we can take Oak Park. But they (Oak Park) are such an unpredictable team," Glover concluded.

Cartoon characters are Romulus Homecoming Theme

The theme for Romulus High School's 1984 Homecoming is "cartoon characters".

Each of the four class floats will depict a famous cartoon character. At the homecoming dance, the decorations will all portray the cartoon theme.

Last night (Oct. 3), students attended class dressed in costumes of characters. Members of the "Queen's Court" this year are Kim Doss, Michelle Grizzle, Kim Ham-mons, Lisa Rivers, and Tyra Spaulding, all seniors. Members of the "King's Court" are Rex Boatright, Rich Dybicki, Erik Hausch, Marc Marsiglia, and Lowell Smith. The King and Queen will be selected from these courts by the entire student body on Oct. 7, Friday.

The winners will be announced at halftime during the Homecoming Game Oct. 7 at Romulus Junior High Carl Morris Field in a game against Oak Park.

The Romulus High Band will lead the parade and will be joined by police and fire components. The Navy ROTC program at the high school will supply a color guard and a drill team for the parade. The parade begins at 5:30 p.m. Oct. 7, Friday starting from City Hall through downtown Romulus and ending at Carl Morris Field. The game begins at 7:30 p.m.

Huron enters computer age

Huron Township approved the purchase of a Burrough's B-96 computer to replace its outdated B-80 machine. The machine is used to compute utility bills. The decision to buy was by a 5-2 vote.
